

My name is Gonzalo Enei. I'm a founder and product maker.

I co-founded 🎨 Faces, a presentations platform where every slide is a software artifact. I was the CEO for 3 years. My co-founders run it today. We built several other 🧠 AI-native products, including a 🛠️ Workspace where every tool was usable by humans and agents, and an extension that generated 🌐 Interfaces using the underlying webpage as a backend. Hi Ventures and Bessemer backed us.

Before that, I was employee No.11 at 💡 Fintual, which makes investing easy for people in LatAm. I was Head of Growth and later VP of Product, as we grew from $10M to $650M in assets under management in four years. This was Sequoia's first investment in Chilean founders, founders who in turn invested in Faces.

I also started a positive media company that was viewed by millions monthly, co-authored some behavioral research, and studied humanities, law and entrepreneurship at PUC, LatAm's top university.

Grew up in Tokyo and Santiago. Now in the Bay Area. I hold a green card as an alien of extraordinary ability.

Tinkering

 Independent

Jun – Aug 2026 · 2 months

I built an iOS app for planning and managing social media posts. I also made a conversational interviews prototype, where you send an AI to talk to a person instead of sending a survey.

Co-Founder & CEO

 Faces · Full-time

Jan 2023 – May 2026 · 3 yrs 5 mos

Co-founded and led Faces, presentations where every slide is as dynamic as the web, generated by AI. Also shipped several experimental products: an LLM-product prototyping canvas, autonomous workers, an AI-native workspace, and a Chrome extension that generated new interfaces on top of web pages. Hi Ventures and Bessemer are backers.
